Monday, February 7, 2010 Most of you have probably seen the big round of layoffs at the Yahoo Finance Group on Yahoo Groups. The ones that I haven't seen are leaving now. And then those that are left are recommending that a second round of voluntary layoffs be done. I also thought the first one was really long and wish I could have been there. I was in a Yahoo as coordinator back in '87 or so, but not with Yahoo Finance. The Yahoo Finance Group has been (and will continue to) be a resource for not only finance information, but other areas of interest such as stocks, finance, education, online media. I also wish I could have been a Yahoo Finance Group moderator, and still might be. I have a very long history in finance and investing, as well as in other areas of the internet. Perhaps instead of a voluntary layoff, others who will be more valuable to Yahoo Finance can be let go (as a top person) for their skills that Yahoo could make use of. I think it is important to keep some of the Yahoo employees, Yahoo is a huge company. They can support this large group of Yahoo employees and help them find new jobs. Adsorption and diffusion of butylated hydroxytoluene through  $\alpha$ -MnO<sub>2</sub> : Kinetics, thermodynamics, and uncertainty quantification. When  $\alpha$ -MnO<sub>2</sub> is used as a heterogeneous catalyst for liquid phase reactions, interfacial interactions between the catalyst and reactants are important. Many interfacial studies focus on mass transfer through an adsorbed monolayer using vacuum techniques. However, adsorption and diffusion of reactants through porous solids
